

What is it about?

It is a login screen with the help of which a user can get into his/her account by providing credentials if available. If not the user can choose to continue with facebook, google or twitter as a verification id.

They can also sign up with the help of Sign up button.

Design Principles applied?

People love to have control.

Too many choices can confuse the user.

Aesthetic and minimalistic design(Makes user easier to digest the design)

Shadows under the button makes human think they are made to be clicked.

What is it about?

It's the lesson screen where the users will study about the lesson. This screen will have notes and questions and even links to extra resources.

Users will be able to watch the video, read the notes, answer some questions and go to previous and next page.

Design Principles applied?

People love to have control. (People can choose the speed of the video)

Humans don't read they scan (Therefore we have used bold and yellow color to show the important link of resources)
